April 29, 2019

Dear graduates and current eligible students,

The University of Iowa College of Nursing is pleased to offer the Clinical Nurse Leader (CNL) certification examination to graduates of the Advanced Generalist (CNL) program. The next examination will take place in the College of Nursing computer lab on ground level. The test is scheduled for July 18, 2019. Testing will begin promptly at 1:00 p.m. and last until 4 p.m. Registration deadline is May 10, 2019 for this testing date.

To sit for the examination you must apply. The application process may be accessed at the following link: http://www.aacnnursing.org/CNL-Certification/Apply-for-the-Exam. You will also need to have the Education Documentation Form filled out by me or Ellen Cram, electronically. Instructions may be found at the above link as well. This needs to be completed by May 3, 2019.

The examination is three hours in length and consists of multiple-choice questions similar to the NCLEX. Useful information and examination preparation resources can be found at the following link: http://www.aacnnursing.org/CNL-Certification/CNC-Publications-Resources

On the day of the exam, please report to the College of Nursing computer lab on ground level at 12:45 p.m. to be checked into the examination room. Please bring a current valid picture identification (driver’s license with color photo and signature, valid passport or military identification card, or a city/county/state issued valid identification card).

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

M. Lindell Joseph, PhD, RN
